VEGETABLE SEEDS

Many varieties of Vegetable Seed found in other catalogues are not listed in ours for the reason that we list only those varieties which have been tested in our soil and climate and found adapted to it. Many varieties which under some conditions are excellent, in other places are practically worthless and our aim is to handle only those which our customers can grow successfully.

The prices quoted on Vegetable Seed include delivery charge.

Many people like to try out different varieties but do not want to buy a quantity of each kind. We are putting up different varieties of Vegetable and Flower Seed in small size packets but enough for a good trial of each and offering them at special prices in collections. Perhaps the varieties you have grown are not just what you want and this will give you a chance to try out something different at very little cost.
